Employment Skills Workshop with Candice Wade - Create Your Own "Elevator Speech" Friday, May 5 - 2 PM

If you had only a minute to tell a potential employer why they should hire you, could you do it? Let Forward Service Corporation Account Representative Candice Wade help you learn how to craft a brief and focused sales pitch about yourself and what you're looking for in a job or career. Candice can give you practical assistance, whether you are just starting your working life, hoping to change jobs or careers, or re-entering the workforce. Refreshments will be provided.

Michael Czarnecki Poetry Reading Thursday, May 11- 6:30 PM

Michael Czarnecki, poet, oral memoirist and small press publisher, will read from his new book, there is only this moment. Following his reading, there will be an opportunity for attendees to read one or two of their own original poems. The program is free.

Czarnecki has published 13 books, including Never Stop Asking for Poems, and Twenty Days on Route 20, an account of his journey across America on US Highway 20 that he wrote as a combination of prose and haiku.

Czarnecki's small press, FootHills Publishing, is the publisher of the book of memoirs by Sauk County writers, My Truth Be Told: A Sauk County Palm of the Hand Memoir. The book is a joint project of the Baraboo Public Library and UW-Baraboo/Sauk County Library, whose memoir writing workshop is inspired by Czarnecki's Palm of the Hand memoir writing method.
